March of Dimes Fund Passes $300 Through Aid of Local Lodges

Chrm. Gresens Asks Hearty Response to Appeals For Donations

Generous response from Antioch lodges sent the March of Dimes fund for Antioch over the $300 mark yesterday.

Bad weather has hindered the work of some of the solicitors but an attempt will be made to see as many persons in the community as possible before the end of the month.

Ed Gresens, chairman of the drive, said he hoped there would be a good response and that there would be no reluctance on the part of anyone to give.

"Since polio is not confined to any one area and nearly every family has a neighbor or friend who has had the sickness, everyone should have a personal interest in the success of this campaign," he said. "Every person is a potential victim of polio regardless of age."

Gresens said he was confident that those who are not contacted will donate through the mail or at least in the "Iron Lung" containers in the business places. Checks may be mailed to him at 1050 Bishop Dr.

The American Legion Auxiliary and the Royal Neighbors of America gave generous checks this week.

The American Legion gave the volunteer workers permission to meet at the Legion home in planning the drive.

Sequois Will Meet Wauconda Here Friday; Lose to Palatine There

Antioch High started its second round of basketball in the Northwest conference last week by losing to Palatine there 52 to 36. The lower classmen lost 23 to 9. It was the second loss this year to the Cook county school.

The Sequoia will attempt to even up the standing by defeating Wauconda here tomorrow night. They did it in the first round of play and believe they can do it again.

Palatine made 24 of its 68 attempts from the field goal while Antioch was only able to hit the basket 14 times in 64 tries. Only in the third quarter did the Sequoia out play the Palatine team. The score at the first quarter was 12 to 6, at the half 21 to 12 and at the third quarter 34 to 28. It was in the third quarter that the Lake county boys threatened to win, but the rally started by Haviland didn't last.

High scorers for Antioch were B. Haviland, 12, and Wilton, 10; for Palatine Klein, 19.

Ingleside Resident Will Seek Legislative Seat At Democratic Primary

Charles A. Stanton, of Ingleside, a former lieutenant on the state police force under Gov. Henry Horner, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative from the eighth senatorial district.

Claiming to be free of any bosses or political machines Stanton is making his appeal on the basis of his independence and his willingness to serve no special interests but the public in general.

Stanton was born and raised on a farm in Grant township, and now is a general contractor. He was on the state police force stationed at Elgin district headquarters from 1932 to 1949.

He is said to have organized the Security patrol for Great Lakes Naval Training center, and was an investigator for the navy at Great Lakes and the army at the Chicago Signal depot for two years each.

He had special police training at Northwestern university. He and Mrs. Stanton and their two sons reside at Ingleside. The one son, Ralph is attending Northern Illinois State Teachers college and the other, Charles, is at home.

Miss Alyce Pedersen, an employee of the First National Bank and Miss Pat Milz, Mrs. Otto Milz and Mrs. William Corcoran left Sunday for a two week's vacation in Florida.

"Tide of Toys" Program Quite Successful Here

Through the generous cooperation of Antioch residents, many destitute children of Europe will be made happy by Antioch's contributions to the "Tide of Toys" program conceived by George N. Craig, Brazil, Indiana, National Commander of the American Legion.

Antioch's contributions were packed Sunday afternoon, Jan. 7, and sent on to Philadelphia, the central receiving point.

The toys will leave Philadelphia Feb. 1, and on arrival in Europe will be distributed to needy children, who through no fault of their own are unable to have toys to enjoy, Ed Jahneke, commander, said.

Antioch Rescue Squad Helps Recover Body of Girl from Fox River

Through the counsel of the Antioch Rescue squad the body of a 16-year old girl, Beverly Pearson, of near McHenry was recovered Monday afternoon from the Fox River at Fox River Grove where she drowned Sunday.

Capt. Herman Holbek, asked to bring the Antioch equipment, instructed the Fox River Grove firemen how to go about searching for the body under the ice, and then he and the squad took the local equipment there. The equipment had just been unloaded when the body was found.

Miss Pearson was drowned when she broke through the ice while crossing the river to the Norge ski jump which was in progress Sunday afternoon. She and her sister, Barbara, 15, their father, Carl Pearson and 9-year-old neighbor, Douglas Schwemm, started across the river on the ice after parking their car near the bridge between Fox River and Cary.

The three older persons broke through a thin place in the ice, but the small boy was able to walk to the shore because of his lighter weight.

Donald Fransen, 20, of Cary, and Ray Beatty, 27, Chicago, pushed a row boat ahead of them over the ice until they reached the spot where they could throw a rope to Barbara and extend a pole to her father.

Beverly was said to have gone through the ice first and her sister and father also fell in when they tried to help her out. Her body was found but a few feet from where she went down.

Antioch High Assigned To Barrington Tourney With Eight Other Teams

Antioch High will be one of nine teams playing in the district basketball tournament at Barrington Feb. 21 to 24.

The winner of the tournament will play in the regional tourney which has been switched this year from Waukegan to Evanston, and will be staged from Feb. 28 to Mar. 3.

Those who will play at Barrington are Antioch, Barrington, Warren, Gurnee, Grayslake, Elva of Lake Zurich, Northbrook, Grant of Ingleside, Lake Forest, and Wauconda.

The pairings will not be announced for another 10 days.

While the regional tournament was taken from Waukegan to Evanston, the sectional tournament will be held in the Lake county city.

Fred Berg Sends From Florida, Description Of Socialized Medicine

Fred Berg, wintering in St. Petersburg, Fla., sent a clipping from a newspaper there which describes socialized medicine. It is reproduced as follows:

Rotary Sunbeam, official organ of the St. Pete club, carries this definition of socialized medicine in its New Year issue.

When we have socialized medicine you enter the doctor's office and find it has two doors, one marked "Over 21" and the other "Under 21"; you go through the right door and enter another room which has two doors, one marked "male" and the other "female"; you choose the right door and find yourself in another room with two doors, one marked "married" and one marked "single".

You choose the right door and enter another room with two doors, one marked "Republican", the other "Democrat" and if you go through the door marked "Republican", you wind up in the alley.

Victory Sunday Service To End Methodist Drive For New Building Fund

Sunday will be Victory Sunday at the Methodist church in Antioch. It will climax the campaign which began January 7 to provide funds for the proposed new addition to the church. The addition is to supply the much needed space for Church School room and recreational facilities.

Attendance at "Victory Service" is expected to be one of the largest ever attended at a Methodist church service in Antioch. Gifts for the building fund will be offered at this time. The Rev. A. L. Stevenson will preach the final sermon of the campaign entitled, "Gratitude."

The church choir under the direction of Charles Watson will sing. A well attended dinner was served to the "Visitors" on Monday night by the women of the Church.

Several campaign committee members were introduced by Louis Horton, who served as toastmaster. The meeting was climaxed with an address and instructions by the Rev. Mr. Stevenson, campaign chairman. He mentioned that never in his long campaign experience, nor probably will he ever again, see such a large church school in comparison to the size of the church membership.

"If any church needed church school space," said the minister, "certainly Antioch Methodist church does. Due credit should be given to the school and to the people who have been responsible for this wonderful record."

The "Visitors" under the direction of Mrs. C. L. Heath, Mrs. D. N. Deering and Robert Wilton, Sr., made their calls on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The special gifts committee under the direction of S. Boyer Nelson expects to complete its work by Victory Sunday.

The gift counting is expected to be completed by mid-afternoon Sunday. Anybody interested may call at the Church after 4 o'clock to learn the final outcome of the drive.

Antioch Beats Gurnee, and Allendale Downs Lake Villa In Grade School Basketball

Antioch Grade school A and B basketball teams both won from Gurnee here Monday night. The lightweights won 26 to 18 and the heavyweights, amassing a substantial margin at the start, held on to a 35 to 31 victory.

Last night they played Allendale here.

Next Monday Antioch will play the Gavin school teams in their new gymnasium. Gavin entered the league since Christmas when the new floor became available. On the following Friday the local boys will play Grayslake there.

The Allendale Tigers made Lake Villa their fourth conference victim last Friday to remain undefeated in the Northern Lake County Grade School Conference. The score was 58 to 21.

Bob Seymour, the Tiger center, scored 23 points while his scoring partner Bert Heuer collected 19. "Butch" Brown led the losers with 7 points.

Woodstock Farmer Bids For Legislative Seat At Republican Primary

A. B. McConnell of Woodstock has filed petitions of candidacy in the Republican primary for a seat in the legislature for the eighth senatorial district, comprising McHenry, Lake and Boone counties. Mr. McConnell was urged to take this step by his many friends who believe that the Republicans of this agricultural district are entitled to an active farmer member.

Mr. McConnell's name may be new to some but to many persons it is very familiar for in the three counties he has had many years of public service. He is now serving his third term as a member of the McHenry county board of supervisors and is vice chairman of the Republican Central committee.

Mr. McConnell has always been active in the Farm Bureau and his last year on its board acted as vice president. His interest in agriculture and its growth in the community is demonstrated by the fact that he aided in the organization of the Pure Milk association and served as president of the sixth district for many years; he also was instrumental in getting the Production Credit association started in the three counties and has served on its board of directors for the sixteen years since its organization, now being its president.

In addition to these activities Mr. McConnell is very much interested in the young people and has been a 4-H leader for a number of years. He was one of the prime movers in securing a lease for the old fair grounds (McHenry County) from the county board for a 4-H town and the re-establishment of the McHenry County fair.

Mr. McConnell is a descendant of a pioneer family, a family that has produced public servants in every one of the five generations of their residence in Northern Illinois. Of added interest is the fact that he was born on a farm east of Woodstock and spent his entire life there. He was educated in the local schools, graduating from the Woodstock High school. He then attended the University of Illinois for four years where his major was general agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell have four children; Jane (Mrs. Paul Novak); A. B. McConnell III; David and Sarah Ellen.

Mr. McConnell is a Mason and a member of both the Elks and the Moose lodges. He is a member, too, of the Woodstock chamber of commerce.

Allendale played Antioch here Wednesday evening. Both Antioch teams A and B lost. B lost 27 to 22 and A 26 to 13.

Thomas Higgins Assoc., Chicago Architects to Plan A.T.H.S. Addition

Experts to Advise Board on Needs of Enlarged High School

The architect firm of Thomas Higgins associates, of Chicago, has been employed by the Antioch Township High school board of education to prepare plans for the proposed new addition to the high school.

The selection of this firm was made last Wednesday night after interviews with eight firms. The grade school addition begun this week at Lake Villa, the addition to the Warren Township school, and schools at Blue Island, Naperville, and LaGrange, Ill., were designed by the Thomas Higgins associates.

The first task of the Chicago firm will be to establish the grade, locate the sewers and determine the pitch of the ground and this will be done next week.

M. M. Craft, representative of the state department of education, was here yesterday in inspecting the building and outlining the needed addition, which he reported to the board last night. Dr. W. C. Reavis of the University of Chicago will come later to give his views on the same matters.

The high school is in need of six class rooms, shops, music room, gymnasium space and auditorium space. Just how they will be arranged will be up to the architect. He should have his preliminary plans in six or eight weeks, Principal T. R. Birkhead said, and thereafter with the probable cost estimated, the board will be ready to go before the voters of the district in a referendum on a bond issue.

Should the issue be approved, the advertising of bids will follow, and the contract let.

Principal Birkhead said that under the most favorable circumstances work could not be started until next autumn.

Broken Water Main at High School Floods Library and Cafeteria

While other parts of Illinois were fighting flood waters, Antioch Township High had its own little flood this week.

A broken water main beneath the building spurted water through the floors of the library and the cafeteria.

It was at first thought that the water came from the heavy rains of last week, but on Tuesday when it increased despite freezing weather the school authorities came to the conclusion that the source was a broken main.

The clear water covered the floor of the library to the depth of an inch and a half, and covered one third of the cafeteria floor.

The library was unusable for two days and the work of serving the students in limited space was a task for the women employees.

The water was shut off with the close of school Tuesday and basketball players had to go home for their showers.

Excavation in Progress On Addition to Grade School at Lake Villa

Work has been started on Lake Villa's new addition to its grade schools for which there has been a $225,000 bond issue. Excavation is nearly completed.

The two-story structure added to the north of the old building will have eight class rooms, a lunch room that will seat 200 pupils, a boiler room and a shower and toilet room.

O. W. Potter of Wauconda, is the general contractor. E. J. Claffey of Chicago, has the heating contract, the Erlend Electric Co., of Evanston the electrical contract; and the Lakes Region Co., of Fox Lake the plumbing.

The building is to be completed by Sept. 1.

At present the 265 pupils are distributed in three buildings, 180 in the building on Grand ave., and the rest in the village hall and at the Cedar Lake school.

With the new addition 360 pupils will be accommodated.

Old-Fashioned Virtues

The state of Florida wants industries which are suited to its resources and climate. These industries are not of the "smoke-stack" variety—Florida hasn't the raw materials they need. Instead, enterprises which require small amounts of raw materials and the work of many technicians and craftsmen are desired. Watchmaking is cited as one example.

A few months ago, Governor Fuller Warren of that state did something concrete to turn the desire into reality. He formed a Florida Industrial Development Council. He staffed it with nine of the state's outstanding industrialists, along with the heads of various public and private research agencies. Of great importance, the Council is 100 per cent non-partisan and non-political. The Governor and some of the members are on opposite sides of the political fence. It is to the Governor's credit that, regardless of this, he picked the best men available and set them to work.

Much progress has been reported so far—new payrolls are coming to the state. Industry, agriculture and the tourist business are to be locked together to give Florida year-round stability of income.

Here is a fine illustration of how these old-fashioned virtues of local initiative and self-reliance still work. Florida had an economic problem—but she didn't run to the Federal government for help. She figured out how to solve that problem with her own resources and acted. If that spirit were more prevalent, this country would be in a far sounder condition.

If They Win—Curtains

During the current session of Congress, the drive to socialize the power industry of this country will continue. It is expected that the strongest pressure will be exerted behind the proposed Columbia Valley Administration measure which would give a three-man board virtually dictatorial authority over basic resources of the Pacific Northwest. CVA is being pushed for the simple reason that it is planned as the pattern for similar authorities in other sections of the country.

According to most forecasts, it is not likely that CVA will be voted by the 81st Congress—opposition from the affected states has been extremely strong, and has come from the governors and other public officials, newspapers, civic groups, and so on. But this fact will not deter CVA's advocates. Theirs is a long-term program. If they are defeated one year, they'll be back the next. For it is an obvious fact that the friends of Socialism in our Federal government need to win only once—then they'll be in the saddle permanently. The friends of free enterprise, on the other hand, must win every time to survive.

That is why the electric power fight is of importance to every one of us. The fate of the utilities is only a small part of a national issue. The big thing is that if this industry can be socialized, the precedent will be established for extending the same treatment to other basic industry. The authority and rights of the states will be destroyed. The Federal government will call the tune everywhere, and all of us will dance to it. CVA, and kindred proposals, are symbols of a great conflict that will determine whether we are to remain a free people—or whether we are to let the Federal government become our unchallenged master.

Philosophy of Retrogression

Should it be considered a crime for a retailer to use every possible operating technique to reduce prices to the consumer?

Think twice before answering that question. For, in essence, that is what the government is attempting to establish in its antitrust suit against a very large chain store system, the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

Going farther, the government brief holds that A and P, because of its cost-cutting policy, has prevented competition and created a monopoly. If that means anything at all, it means that other merchants find it impossible to do business in communities in which A and P stores exist.

Everyone who lives in the large area in which A and P operates knows that this simply is not true. A and P competes directly with other chains. It likewise competes directly with thousands of independent stores, old, new, small and large. These stores have not been going out of business. They have, to the contrary, been doing very well indeed for the most part, and they have succeeded in competition with A and P.

A good many commentators seem to think that what the government actually wants to do is to make mere size seem dangerous and reprehensible. This particular chain is a big business—ergo, it is bad. This is a philosophy that can only make for retrogression if it is ever accepted. The measure of any business is service—not size. That principle has made possible the development of our economy.

Motor Fuels

Present trends in the direction of increased sulfur content of motor fuels have two important effects on the use of leaded gasolines in engines. Increased sulfur in leaded fuels reduces the antiknock efficiency of tetraethyl lead and causes lead-sulfur compounds to be major products of combustion.

Diamonds For Shriners

The familiar crescent and scimitar fraternal emblem of Shriners, usually a sapphire design worn as a lapel pin or finger ring, now boasts a one-quarter carat diamond securely set in palladium centered in the crescent. Five tiny gems sparkle in the sword handle.

Mantega

Collecting turtle eggs along the shores of the Orinoco river in Venezuela is big business. Gathered by Indians living in the watershed of the river, the eggs yield an oil called mantega. This oil is preserved in jars and sold commercially as a fuel for lamps or a seasoning for food.

Basic Product

Select a product—any product—and if it is made in America, bituminous coal has touched it first. Think back to where your product—any product—came from. How were its raw materials drawn from the earth, the sea, the sky? Where did the machinery come from for making it? Were lighting, power, heat, energy required in its manufacture? Did electricity enter in? Steel? Transportation? At every turn you will find coal, derivatives of coal, or functions made possible by coal.

Franklin's Business Philosophy

In illustrating Franklin's tactics in business, it is interesting to note his reaction to a rival's unfair practice. Bradford, printer of a competitive newspaper and postmaster of Philadelphia, would not allow Franklin's "Pennsylvania Gazette" to go through the mails. When Franklin succeeded Bradford as postmaster, however, he did not seek revenge. He said, "I thought so meanly of him for it, that, when I afterward came into his situation, I took care never to imitate it."

Chalking is Normal

It is usual for paint used on outside surfaces to wear off by a process called "chalking." Surface oils are destroyed by light, heat and moisture. Loose particles appear. This is normal paint wear and is not, in itself, a sign of poor paint or poor workmanship. Before recoating a heavily chalked surface, all chalk should be removed by scrubbing with water or by brushing with a stiff brush.

Jets Deliver Huge Power

A hypothetical 10,000-pound thrust jet engine would deliver more than 20,000 horsepower when traveling at the speed of sound, 760 miles an hour. Engineers explain that jet power is figured in pounds of thrust. This is directly equal to horsepower only at 375 miles an hour. It increases in horsepower value as speed mounts.

Shipment of Acids

Corrosion-resistant stainless steel drums now are used to ship acids and other chemicals in solid or liquid form.

HOTTEST ENGINE NEWS of 1950

That's the word spreading about Buick's brand-new F-263 valve-in-head engine, already proving itself in the hands of new SUPER owners

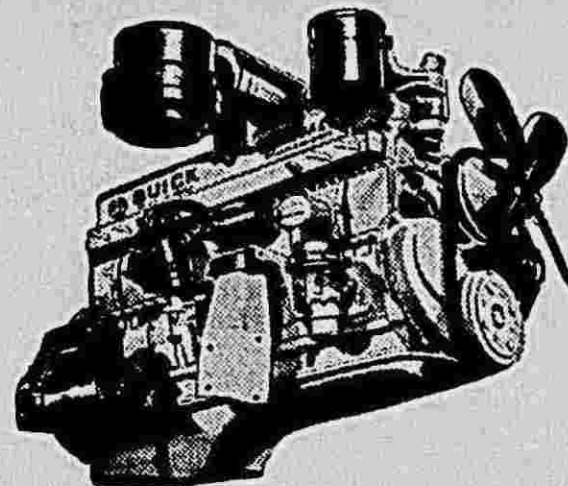

CALL it if you will the biggest power-story of the year. Call it another triumph in Buick's long history of coming up with car performance beyond compare.

But, sir, when you step into the sleek-lined traveler pictured here—hang on to your hat.

For you'll be riding behind a power plant that is not only new but a major sensation of the 1950 season.

You'll be commanding the very latest word in valve-in-head power—the newest accomplishment of the organization with the country's longest stretch of experience in this engine design.

Here every fist-size fuel charge now delivers a huskier wallop. Shorter, lighter connecting rods mean that pistons flash with faster and livelier action.

Heavier crankshafts, floated on bigger, more rugged bearings, take this greater load and transmit its stepped-up surge to the drive shaft and rear wheels.

And you, behind the wheel, wreath your face in smiles at the lift you find! At the trigger-quick take-off—the mile-eating cruising stride—your easy disdain for the passing gas pumps.

You and your SUPER are really stepping out—and Buick's good name as "a sweetheart on the road" gains still more lustre.

Nor is road-thrill the only blessing this new power plant brings. Simpler design makes service easier, so upkeep diminishes as a problem. Hydraulic valve-lifters keep valves properly seated for efficient operation—and for quiet unbroken by tappet noise.

And you can have this power either with Buick's easy-shifting Synchro-Mesh transmission or the silken luxury of Dynaflow Drive.*

Either way, this SUPER is certainly something to see. To this top-notch new power it adds style and room, comfort and a wide outlook, soft easy stride and handier new over-all length.

Even the price justifies a prompt trip to your Buick dealer to learn more about Buick for 1950. You'll soon see why so many folks are already saying, "Whatever your price range—better buy Buick!"

Your Income Tax

Article No. 3

Personal Exemptions
The present Federal income tax law provides a personal exemption of $600.00 for the taxpayer and an additional $600.00 for the taxpayer's spouse, if the spouse has no gross income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer.

Each person who has attained the age of 65 years before the end of the year will receive an additional exemption of $600.00, which is treated in the same manner as the ordinary exemption. A married taxpayer can claim the old age exemption of his spouse on his separate return, if she has no gross income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer.

A further exemption of $600.00 is allowed to each blind taxpayer who may also claim an additional exemption of $600.00 for a blind spouse. The same rules govern the allowance of the exemption for the blind spouse as govern the allowance of the ordinary exemption for a spouse. This blind exemption replaces the deduction of $500.00 allowed each blind person under the prior law.

The exemption allowed for each dependent under the present law is $600.00. The tests for dependency are the same as for the 1948 return. It is to be noted that dependency cannot be claimed for a person having income of $500.00 or more.

It is to be noted further that the old age and blind exemptions do not apply to dependents.

Income Splitting by Husband and Wife

The present law gives husbands and wives in all states the right to file joint returns on which their combined net income and their combined exemptions are divided by two; the tax is then computed on half the income and such tax multiplied by two.

In order to split the income it is necessary for a couple to file a joint return, because the gross income of the husband and wife must be totalled. Their deductions must be totalled. The net income is then divided by two and the tax is computed on half of the net income, allowing one-half of the combined exemptions. This result is multiplied by two in order to obtain the tax on the combined income of husband and wife. This method of computation cannot be used on a separate return.

Standard Deduction
The standard deduction (the 10% of adjusted gross income allowed in lieu of actual deductions) has been increased by the present law. Under the prior law the maximum standard was limited to $500.00. In case of a joint return of married persons or the return of a single person the maximum standard deduction is increased to $1,000.00. Married persons filing separate returns are still limited to $500.00.

The standard deduction on a joint return or the return of a single person thus becomes 10% of the adjusted gross income, but not to exceed $1,000.00.

Percentage Credits Against The Tax

The Revenue Act of 1948 does not reduce either the normal tax rate or the surtax rates. It achieves a reduction in tax by increasing the percentage credit allowed against the tentative normal tax and surtax. The credits now are:

If the tentative tax is
1. Not over $400.00, credit is 17% of the tentative tax.
2. Over $400.00 but not over $100,000.00, credit is $68.00 plus 12% of excess over $400.00.
3. Over $100,000.00, credit is $12,020.00 plus 9.75% of excess over $100,000.00.

A limitation has been set to the total amount of tax. In no case may the total tax exceed 77% of the net income.

Here Is Another Time The Anti-Trust Lawyers Were Wrong!

Ever since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, they have been making, in the newspapers and over the radio, various "allegations" about how they think this company does business.

Please remember that "allegations" are charges that have not been proved.

In this case they will be disproved.

There have been times in the past when the anti-trust lawyers made very damaging "allegations" about this company that the courts eventually decided were utterly without foundation.

In our last advertisement we told you about the time the anti-trust lawyers charged that A&P, two other food chains and two labor unions conspired to fix the price of bread in Washington, D. C.

And yet, when this case came to trial, it was revealed that the defendants were actually selling bread cheaper than most other stores in Washington, and there was absolutely no evidence that they had ever engaged in any such "alleged" conspiracy.

That was the time Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

It was the time he said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"If you were to show this record to any experienced trial lawyer in the world, he would tell you that there was not any evidence at all."

"Honestly, I have never in my over forty years' experience seen tried a case that was as absolutely devoid of evidence as this. That is the honest truth. I have never seen one like it."

But this was not the only time that the anti-trust lawyers made such serious "allegations" against A&P which were false. Again, and still again, they brought cases against A&P and suffered defeat.

As we have said, we think you are entitled to know about these other cases. And now, we are going to tell you about the second time the anti-trust lawyers were wrong.

The North Carolina Potato Case

In December, 1941, the anti-trust lawyers brought a criminal suit in Wilson, North Carolina.

They charged that A&P's fresh fruit and vegetable buying subsidiary, and other good American citizens, had conspired to fix and depress prices paid farmers for potatoes in North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland.

Can anyone imagine any charge calculated to be more damaging to a retail grocery business that must rely on farmers, day after day, for the food we distribute to our customers?

In this case the anti-trust lawyers gave a story to the newspapers, telling millions of farmers that we were the kind of people who would force their prices down, deprive them of a decent income, and lower their families' living standard.

These charges were false.

They made these charges despite the fact that it has always been A&P's policy to pay our farm suppliers fair market prices for all produce; to aid agriculture through better distribution of its products; to narrow the spread between farm and retail prices; and to help farmers build better markets for their products.

That is why many thousands of farmers all over the country are now coming to our support.

When the case finally came to trial, the anti-trust lawyers put on as their first witness a potato expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

This expert, who was the anti-trust lawyers' own witness, testified that contrary to the anti-trust lawyers' "allegations," the defendants made every effort to help the Department of Agriculture in its efforts to aid the potato farmer in better marketing of his products and in getting a better price for his products.

When the anti-trust lawyers had put in their evidence and had argued their case Federal Judge C. C. Wyche directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty."

Judge Wyche said to the anti-trust lawyers:

"I have studied this case from the very outset. In my opinion there is no testimony produced from which it can reasonably be inferred that the defendants entered into a combination to depress or lower the price of potatoes."

"I might say that I never tried a case in my life where a greater effort, more work, more investigation had been done, combing almost with a fine-tooth comb to gather evidence, as was done in this case."

"But, as was said a long time ago, you can't make brick without straw, and you can't make a case without facts."

So, here was a case in which the anti-trust lawyers made seriously damaging charges against A&P in which the Judge decided that there were no facts to support those charges.

That is why we say the anti-trust lawyers can be wrong and have been wrong.

That is why we say that they are wrong again, just as they were wrong in the Washington bread case and the North Carolina potato case.

We are going to show the American people that the suit to destroy A&P is really a suit against efficiency and against real competition.

The real question involved in this suit is whether businessmen are going to be encouraged to do a better and more efficient job; or whether we are going to let the anti-trust lawyers in Washington blow the whistle on anybody who gets big by giving the people more for their money.

No one can make us believe that it is a crime to try to sell the best quality food at the lowest possible price.

Cards and the Bible—

Although said to be more than 200 years old, the following story may be of interest to those who have not seen it.

Richard Land, a private in the British Army early in the 18th century, was brought before the mayor and lord protector of Glasgow charged with playing cards during divine service. He said he had no Bible or prayer book, and was using his pack of cards instead. When asked to explain what he meant he answered:

"When I see the ace, it reminds me of the one God; the deuce recalls the Father and the Son; the trey, the three persons of the Trinity; the four spot reminds me of the four evangelists; the five, the five wise virgins; the six, of the days of creation; the seven, of the seventh day or Sabbath; the eight recalls the righteous persons in the Ark; the nine, the ungrateful lepers; the 10, the Commandments. The king suggests the King of Heaven; the queen, the Queen of Sheba who sought wisdom from Solomon. The knave (jack)"—here he hesitated, but on being urged, went on: "The knave stands for the constable who arrested me."

The mayor interrupted to remark that the constable seemed to have been a fool, even though not a knave. Then the soldier continued: "There are 365 pips (spots) in the pack, which recall the days of the year; 52 cards, one for each week; 12 face cards, one for each month, and the 13 tricks represent the number of weeks in a quarter. Thus the pack of cards serves as a Bible, a prayer book and an almanac."

Boom!

In January, 1831, the South Carolina Railroad put into service one of the first American made steam locomotives which it named "The Best Friend" in hope it would have a long and profitable life. But its career was suddenly ended a few weeks later when its Negro fireman, annoyed by the roar of escaping steam, tied down the safety valve. The explosion so shocked the countryside that, for several years, the railroad, to secure passengers, had to separate each engine from the rest of the train with a flatcar loaded with cotton.

In the Movies

Because the omission saves time and labor and is rarely noticed, characters in animated movie cartoons are usually drawn with three fingers and a thumb on each hand.

New Businesses

The number of new businesses has been declining for some time. Fewer than 400,000 new firms began operations last year. That number was considerably under the 600,000 that opened their doors in 1946. It is even less than the number that started in the years just before the war. Moreover, some 300,000 businesses shut up shop in 1948 (a new post-war high), so the net gains in the business population was less than 100,000.

Origin of "Bible"

From the ancient Phoenician port of Byblos on the Lebanon coast, which exported papyrus, the Greeks derived their word biblion, meaning papyrus scroll. And from biblion came the word Bible.

Field, Sweet Corn

The principal genetic difference between field and sweet corn is the mutation of the starch gene in field corn to sugary in sweet corn which promotes a higher total sugar content and causes the sugar to persist.

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Board of Trustees of the First Fire Protection District, of Antioch Township, Lake County, Illinois, at the regular adjourned meeting, Tuesday, January 31st, 1950, until Eight o'clock p. m. (C. S. T.) at the residence of the Secretary, Ernest L. Simons, in the Town of Antioch, Illinois, for the purchase of a truck chassis and cab, in accordance with specifications on file with the Secretary of the First Fire Protection District of Antioch Township, which specifications will be made available to all parties desiring to bid.

Bids shall be addressed to Ernest L. Simons, Secretary of the First Fire Protection District of Antioch Township, and shall be in his hands on or before 8:00 p. m. (C. S. T.) January 31st, 1950.

The Board of Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids, to waive any informality in any bid, and to accept any considered advantageous to the First Fire Protection District.

This advertisement is made pursuant to direction of the Board of Trustees of the First Fire Protection District of Antioch Township on the 18th day of January, A. D. 1950.

Ernest L. Simons Secretary of the First Fire Protection District of Antioch Township. (25c)
